

Get Face-to-Face with Your Next Employee

It's a perfect match:

You're looking (or you will be looking) for new talent to work in your warehouse or
as inside or counter sales.

and

Community colleges, technical/vocational schools and high schools throughout the U.S. and Canada are looking for real live employers to come talk to the students about career opportunities.

Industrial Careers Pathway® (ICP) makes it easy for you to get in front of your future workforce when you attend a career fair, make a classroom presentation or give a company tour to make connections with these potential employees.

Why should I connect with local schools?

- Develop relationships with local school faculty and administrators so they can help tell the story about the Incredibly rewarding careers in industrial distribution.
- Get your company name in front of students.
- Start your potential candidate list from the students you meet.
- Find out how other companies are attracting the same talent you're looking for.

ICP has everything you need—and it's free!

ICP will send you all the materials you need to talk about careers in industrial distribution—flyers about the profession, give-a-ways, postcards about the ICP Job Board, banner stand, tablecloth, candy dish (you bring the candy).

If we're asking you to volunteer in response to a request we received from a local school, we'll make all the arrangements. All you need to do is show up and talk about what you do and why you love it. And, remember to bring information about your company.

If you have a connection with a local school, we can help with that too. Just let us know some information and we'll get the right materials in your hands.

If you have questions or want to get involved locally to find your entry-level candidates, email us at info@industrialcareerspathway.org or call 312.516.2100.
